WELCOME
We have prepared this handbook to help you enjoy your OLLI at UAH membership to the fullest. OLLI at UAH is an organization for adults 50+ who enjoy learning and laughing through exciting educational opportunities, industrial tours, day trips, travel and many other varied social and cultural activities. Never stop learning with over 1,100 fellow OLLI at UAH members.

Mission & Background
OLLI at UAH operates under the direction of the College of Professional and Continuing Studies (CPCS) and is housed in Wilson Hall on the UAH campus. OLLI at UAH is a volunteer-driven organization, which provides on-campus learning opportunities to enrich the lives of our members. Although lifelong learning is the goal of the program, opportunities for friendships, laughter, and being involved in fulfilling activities abound. At OLLI, we believe academic, physical, cultural, and social activities influence our “quality of life;” therefore, each term is designed to provide a mixture of opportunities for engaging in a variety of activities.

UAH established an on-campus lifelong learning program in 1993. Originally called The Academy for Lifetime Learning, in 2005 the program was renamed Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at UAH when it became one of 123 lifelong learning programs on university and college campuses throughout the country endowed by the Bernard Osher Foundation. The Osher Foundation was established in San Francisco (1977) and works to improve the quality of life through support for higher education and the arts.

Getting to Know Us
We value the shared knowledge, gifts and talents of our members, volunteer support, and a spirit of collaboration and cooperation among OLLI members and the UAH community.

Member interests are the driving influence for our outstanding curricula, and OLLI members are our primary teaching resource. OLLI courses are offered without grades, tests, or mandatory homework, and there are no prerequisites for participating except a desire to learn and grow. Our course offerings and instructors, coupled with the outstanding resources provided by UAH, provide a collective body of knowledge and talents to OLLI members.

Welcome to OLLI!
You are now part of the OLLI at UAH Community. As a Community, we offer you the opportunity to engage, socialize and learn with a group of lifelong learners. One of the most exciting things we offer is the opportunity to learn in a classroom setting, but we don’t have homework! It has been shown that belonging and social interaction are the two greatest factors contributing to our longevity. OLLI gives you the chance to have those interactions while expanding your interests and knowledge. Thank you for joining the OLLI Family. I encourage you to sample all we have to offer in Your OLLI and hope you will enjoy every moment you share with us!
